Objects for a New Kind of Society

Hosted by: Dutch Invertuals

Project Information (EN)

Objects for a New Kind of Society: Equilibrium Cities

“We need to rethink our relationship with objects and our role as designers within our society.” - Wendy Plomp, Design Director of Dutch Invertuals The world’s cities are outgrowing the limits of our comprehension. This constant expansion is converting vast plains into urbanised areas, consuming land needed to feed their growing population. This puts the concept of the city out of balance. The outbreak of a global pandemic has clearly shown us how fragile our current model of society can be. We can no longer ignore the downsides of living in urban areas. Climate change, air pollution, waste, social unrest and inequality will continue to challenge the way we exist within them. At the same time, new technologies and innovations are emerging that will radically change urban society and place cities in balance again. Our environment will shift towards degrowth and deceleration, leading to a more resilient and liveable future. "The Future Laboratory has the expertise to forecast futures and Dutch Invertuals the power to imagine and build these futures."

DINNER AND PARTY

We invite you to join our annual dinner and party in a unique setting, inside our future city. “The world’s Equilibrium Cities will be built on a foundation of nature, but they will evolve through intersectional architecture, new economic models and responsive healthcare – some will even establish new populations in the virtual realm” – Britt Berden, Art Director of The Future Laboratory. DINNER 4 courses, including wines and drinks 19:00 - 22:00 (18:30 walk in) € 80 Talks by Dutch Invertuals - Wendy Plomp and Designers The Future Laboratory - Britt Berden Reon Brand - Director Design Research at Philips (guest speaker Sunday) Paul Cournet - Architect at OMA*AMO (guest speaker Monday) Reservations - Sunday, October 17 / https://bit.ly/2X28JcM - Monday, October 18 / https://bit.ly/38VBTwd PARTY October 22 19:00 - 23:00 Reservations required: https://bit.ly/3zHLVfy NOTES - Location: Fuutlaan 12B, Eindhoven - We will follow the latest Covid-19 rules and regulations.

GENERAL EXHIBITION INFO

Objects for a New Kind of Society presents eleven works from designers, who translated their vision into tangible design manifestations, giving shape to the world of tomorrow. The exhibition features works from Johanna Seelemann, Sander Hagelaar, Christoph Dichmann, Dae Uk Kim, Delphine Lejeune, Edhv, Moonseop Seo, Elly Feldstein, Steeven Macal, Anna Resei and Sorrel Madley. Open: Weekdays: 10:00 - 18:00 Weekends: 11:00 - 18:00 Sunday, October 24: 11:00 - 16:00 Press opening: October 16, 13:00pm Entrance: Free with DDW Ticket € 4 without DDW Ticket Press package: https://bit.ly/3n3S8hn

Projectinformatie (NL)

Objects for a New Kind of Society: Equilibrium Cities

“We need to rethink our relationship with objects and our role as designers within our society.” - Wendy Plomp, Design Director of Dutch Invertuals The world’s cities are outgrowing the limits of our comprehension. This constant expansion is converting vast plains into urbanised areas, consuming land needed to feed their growing population. This puts the concept of the city out of balance. The outbreak of a global pandemic has clearly shown us how fragile our current model of society can be. We can no longer ignore the downsides of living in urban areas. Climate change, air pollution, waste, social unrest and inequality will continue to challenge the way we exist within them. At the same time, new technologies and innovations are emerging that will radically change urban society and place cities in balance again. Our environment will shift towards degrowth and deceleration, leading to a more resilient and liveable future. "The Future Laboratory has the expertise to forecast futures and Dutch Invertuals the power to imagine and build these futures."

DINNER AND PARTY

We invite you to join our annual dinner and party in a unique setting, inside our future city. “The world’s Equilibrium Cities will be built on a foundation of nature, but they will evolve through intersectional architecture, new economic models and responsive healthcare – some will even establish new populations in the virtual realm” – Britt Berden, Art Director of The Future Laboratory. DINNER 4 courses, including wines and drinks 19:00 - 22:00 (18:30 walk in) € 80 Talks by Dutch Invertuals - Wendy Plomp and Designers The Future Laboratory - Britt Berden Reon Brand - Director Design Research at Philips (guest speaker Sunday) Paul Cournet - Architect at OMA*AMO (guest speaker Monday) Reservations - Sunday, October 17 / https://bit.ly/2X28JcM - Monday, October 18 / https://bit.ly/38VBTwd PARTY October 22 19:00 - 23:00 Reservations required: https://bit.ly/3zHLVfy NOTES - Location: Fuutlaan 12B, Eindhoven - We will follow the latest Covid-19 rules and regulations.

GENERAL EXHIBITION INFO

Objects for a New Kind of Society presents eleven works from designers, who translated their vision into tangible design manifestations, giving shape to the world of tomorrow. The exhibition features works from Johanna Seelemann, Sander Hagelaar, Christoph Dichmann, Dae Uk Kim, Delphine Lejeune, Edhv, Moonseop Seo, Elly Feldstein, Steeven Macal, Anna Resei and Sorrel Madley. Open: Weekdays: 10:00 - 18:00 Weekends: 11:00 - 18:00 Sunday, October 24: 11:00 - 16:00 Press opening: October 16, 13:00pm Entrance: Free with DDW Ticket € 4 without DDW Ticket Press package: https://bit.ly/3n3S8hn

Image List

Filename	Caption	Credit
anna-landscape_1632229199.jpg		Anke Sondi

The images above are included in the ZIP under `/images`.