Project Information (EN)

The Talent Pool, A new wave of designers

As a newby, dipping your toes into the waters of contemporary design requires courage. Ten recently graduated students (2021/2022) of the Eindhoven Design Academy take a dive into the unknown and explore and expose their creativity and individuality in their first ever DDW joint exhibition. The participants, all fresh as an October sea dive, each selected one signature work that reflects their development into independent professional designers. Being on show here on design hotspot Sectie-C - a natural habitat for talent as well as noted designers and artists - might set an international career in motion. The future will tell if you are witnessing a gentle wave, or a tsunami.
