PLASMA DJ COLLECTIVE

Launched in 2019 by Jess Øberlin, PLASMA DJ COLLECTIVE aims to facilitate the growth of a more even playing field behind the decks in their hometown of Eindhoven. The collective is an experiment, born out of the urgent request from PLASMA crowd members, to create a queer safe space and answer the call for new voices to explore their musical identities. They host their own events where collective members guide their students on a field trip from the studio to the stage, empowering them to take risks and develop their talent on the go. Founding members are Jess Øberlin, Mercedes Bendz, Tjuvstart, Iris Rijskamp, TQ007 Jess Øberlin (JØ, PLASMA, thinX) is an anti-disciplinary experience designer dedicated to facilitating space for people to share empowering moments through collaborative learning, making, and doing. Moved by urgency and a need to create for the Future Vintage Jess values the process of research and experimentation as her foundation. Trust the process.
