

Perceptions and values for sustainable consumption

How to extend product lifetimes by product and/or service design?

How to extend product lifetimes by product and/or service design?

Hosted by: Renske van den Berge

Project Information (EN)

Lengthening the lifetime of products is essential to reduce environmental impact.

However, to what extent are you as a consumer willing to change consumption patterns accordingly? In this project, we seek to uncover what perceptions and values are most influential in making more sustainable choices.
