

Modular Plaster

"The process of creation is just as important as the outcome"
"The process of creation is just as important as the outcome"

Hosted by: Marieke Cornielje

Project Information (EN)

The production technique is capable of creating an endless number of different shapes and, therefore, just as many unique porcelain objects. This is done by constructing a transformable mould out of a collection of plaster bars that can be moved, inverted, added, and removed. The process of creation is just as important as the outcome. As a way to honor the material process, I leave the outside of the work unglazed and keep the rough edges created by the different parts of the mould.

Projectinformatie (NL)

The production technique is capable of creating an endless number of different shapes and, therefore, just as many unique porcelain objects. This is done by constructing a transformable mould out of a collection of plaster bars that can be moved, inverted, added, and removed. The process of creation is just as important as the outcome. As a way to honor the material process, I leave the outside of the work unglazed and keep the rough edges created by the different parts of the mould.

Image List

Filename	Caption	Credit
smaler_1665082496.png	Modular Plaster

The images above are included in the ZIP under /images.