

Doodle Series

An ever expanding collection of unique, hand build and hand painted contemporary ceramics.

An ever expanding collection of unique, hand build and hand painted contemporary ceramics.

Hosted by: Maya Leroy

Project Information (EN)

Doodle series came about during the first corona lockdown, from a need and want to create without having to be too serious and without having to think too much of the end result while having fun in doing. Air dry clay has proven to be an ideal medium to work independently, without having to visit any workshops with a kiln as it doesn't need firing. Previously Maya has mainly worked with textiles and that's where she finds a lot of her inspirations for her patterns and colours. Maya's work is mainly based on intuition, She lets her hands lead the way and sees where they take her.

Projectinformatie (NL)

Doodle series came about during the first corona lockdown, from a need and want to create without having to be too serious and without having to think too much of the end result while having fun in doing. Air dry clay has proven to be an ideal medium to work independently, without having to visit any workshops with a kiln as it doesn't need firing. Previously Maya has mainly worked with textiles and that's where she finds a lot of her inspirations for her patterns and colours. Maya's work is mainly based on intuition, She lets her hands lead the way and sees where they take her.

Image List

Filename	Caption	Credit
mayaelineleroy-doodleseries-2_1693484322.jpg	Doodle Vases 2023105, a series of 3.

The images above are included in the ZIP under /images.