

THE SURVIVOR COLLECTION

Project Information (EN)

Discover SKUA’s new accessories collection: “The Survivor.” This first ready-to-wear collection marks a new chapter for the brand, distinguishing itself from the couture collections under the name SKUA Studio and now also focusing on more accessible pieces under the name SKUA. “The Survivor” is a powerful tribute to instinct, fighting spirit, and the wild nature. Inspired by the urge to survive, this collection combines elements from the sports world, such as tennis, with the raw energy of nature. Whether in sports or in the jungle, the struggle is to outlast the strongest—a universal theme reflected in every product. SKUA remains committed to its craftsmanship and always fights to preserve the artisan skills, which is expressed in sustainable, functional accessories you can wear every day. The collection captures the vibe of the early 2000s, a period that still resonates in SKUA’s creative energy. The feelings of rebellion, strength, and perseverance are reinforced by Destiny’s Child’s song “Survivor,” which is often played in the studio during late nights—a soundtrack for racing against the clock for a fashion show, and for those who constantly seek to reinvent themselves. With “The Survivor,” SKUA presents a collection that is not only stylish but also a statement of strength and resilience. Ready to wear, rugged, and meaningful—the collection for the trailblazer in motion.
