

Lens Luminaire

A light piece championing repurposed optical lenses and the dynamism of Eindhoven.

Hosted by: Object Density

Project Information (EN)

De Bruin Heer, (now named De Admirant) formerly served as the Philips head office, and is one of Eindhoven's most iconic buildings. Now standing at the foot of the building is Mr Brown Specs & Beans, a luxury optician & coffee cafe. Through a clos

Projectinformatie (NL)

De Bruine Heer (nu De Admirant) diende vroeger als het hoofdkantoor van Philips en is één van Eindhovens meest iconische gebouwen. Aan de voet van het gebouw bevindt zich nu Mr. Brown Specs & Beans, een luxe opticien en koffiezaak. Door een nauwkeurig

Image List

Filename	Caption	Credit
od-lens-luminaire-hero_1600337599.jpg	Lens Luminaire by Object Density	Dick Rennings
od-lens-luminaire-side-view_1600337648.jpg	Brass detailing inspired by luxury optics.	Dick Rennings
od-lens-luminaire-lenses_1600337648.jpg	Distortion of light and form, no two lenses alike.	Dick Rennings
od-lens-luminaire-us_1600337648.jpg	Kim Stanek & Nicola Charlesworth of Object Density	Dick Rennings
od-lens-luminaire-back-detail_1600337648.jpg	Reflections on the back face of the lenses.

The images above are included in the ZIP under /images.