

Between visible and invisible worlds

Stories grow like mushrooms

Stories grow like mushrooms

Project Information (EN)

So often we see just a little part of all, so much is hidden and stays invisible. By human we see the body but the soul, remains invisible for the eye. We are so much more than an body, we have invisible roots. A web that connects us to different places,

Projectinformatie (NL)

So often we see just a little part of all, so much is hidden and stays invisible. By human we see the body but the soul, remains invisible for the eye. We are so much more than an body, we have invisible roots. A web that connects us to different places,

Image List

Filename	Caption	Credit
newfliegenpilz_1602954174.jpg	The intoxicant of the reindeer (Amanita muscaria)	Jonna Rutanen
afrodisiakkombi_1602699343.jpg	Aphrodisiac Fungi (Phallus indusiatus)	Jonna Rutanen
radiotropfdouple_1602699584.jpg	Radiotrophic Fungi (Clasodporium sphaerospermum)	Jonna Rutanen
chagadouple_1602707876.jpg	The healing parasite (Inonotus obliquus)	Jonna Rutanen
zunderschwammkombi_1602707894.jpg	The tinder sponge from Ötzi (Fommes fomentarius)

The images above are included in the ZIP under /images.